Monday March the 8th, beginning at 9 a. m. No person now can hold the office of Tax Commissioner except those who have passed an examination and have a certificate from the Revenue Department of Kentucky, and that is the purpose of this examination. All applicants must use pen and ink.

County Agent Notes

(By Boyd E. Wheeler)

Letcher County farmers are more interested in the 1937 Agriculture Conservation Program than they were in 1936. Work sheets have been filled out for 70 new farms during the past three weeks, bringing the total to 429 for the County. So far the meetings have been well attended.

Approximately six hundred letters have been mailed out carrying information about the Program and meetings are being held convenient to every community in the County. So far the meetings have been well attended.

One Letcher County poultryman is changing his plans from last year. Last year he purchased his baby chicks in July. This year he has 200 baby chicks 5 weeks old that he expects to get eggs from early this fall and during the winter months when eggs are high priced. If more chicks were raised early we would find our Farm Poultry a more profitable farm enterprise.

Potato planting time will soon be here and many of us will be without seed. This is one year when we should insist on Certified seed potatoes. They cost approximately 50c more per 100 pounds and will be worth 10 times as much more than select seed.

Even certified potato seed should be tested for scab and scurf. This can be done very easily by two methods:

1. Standard Test—In a small wooden tub or crock (never metal of any kind) put 2 quarts of boiling water, and into it stir one ounce of corrosive sublimate until it is completely dissolved. Now, in a wooden tub or barrel, preferably with a bung hole so it may be emptied, and whose capacity is at least 10 gallons, put 7 gallons of water, and to it add the dissolved corrosive sublimate, stirring thoroughly.

Into this, pour enough seed potatoes for the top ones just to be covered, and let them soak for 24 hours. Remove the potatoes and put in another lot, which leave for 1-1/2 hours; then, another lot for 1-1/2 hours and a fourth, for 2 hours. The solution should then be discarded, and a new one made.

2. Quick-Dip Treatment—As its name implies, this way saves time. As in the other, corrosive sublimate is the material, but muriatic acid is added to give it speed. The directions are: In a wooden or crockery ware container, put 2 quarts of water, not necessarily heated and stir into it one ounce of muriatic acid. Then, add one ounce of corrosive sublimate and stir until it is completely dissolved. It will be found that the addition of the acid will hurry up the dissolving.

Next, in a 5 gallon wooden barrel or tub, put 7 gallons of water, add the dissolved corrosive sublimate and stir thoroughly. Into the treating solution pour enough potatoes until the top ones are just covered and leave five minutes. Remove them, and put in a second lot, again for five minutes, and a third and a fourth, each for five minutes.

The solution may be brought back to usable strength by adding acid and corrosive sublimate, but in half-quantities one quart of water, 1/2 ounce of muriatic acid and 1/2 ounce of corrosive sublimate following the same procedure. When the solution was first made. Also water should be added to the solution to bring it to its original strength. This reinforced solution may be used for treating a lot of potatoes, potatoes each, and it may be repeated again and used on 3 lots of potatoes, by simply adding more solution now having been used.

I Want Sick Folks To Know

That Seal's Indian River Tonic Has Done Wonders For Me

Mrs. Margaret Reeves, Fort Smith, Ark., says: "I suffered from indigestion, nervous and distress. I could not sleep. I would not eat and have smothering spells. My skin was broken out, the itching and pain was agony. I could not find relief. I finally tried Seal's Indian River Tonic and I feel like a new man. I am still using it. My skin has healed, the bloating and smothering has left me. I feel like a different woman. I want sick folks to know about Seal's Indian River Tonic. It has done wonders for me, and many others I know about."

See your druggist today. Seal's Indian River Tonic sells for $1.00 per bottle everywhere.

rows, in a strip 12 to 15 inches wide at the rate of one pound per 788 running feet of row. The fertilizer should be dropped at with a hoe.

So much for the preparation of the garden spot; gardeners will do well to see to their tools, and to consider seriously the purchase of a good garden trowel and hoe, for this implement can be made to save its purchase price several times each year. Tastes differ, but the writer prefers a single-wheel, low-wheel type, fitted with cultivator teeth in interchangeable with the scuffle hoe or beet knife attachments. In fact, the latter attachment, alone, will do everything that need be done in cultivating any crop in the garden.

The above directions apply when only small lots of potatoes are to be treated. In working with large quantities of seed, larger containers such as 50 gallon barrels with 22 1/2 gallons of solution should be used, but always made at the rate of 1 ounce of corrosive (and 1 ounce of acid, for the "quick-dip") to each 1 1/2 gallons of water.

The above directions assume that the potatoes are to be treated loose, for this saves materials, one ounce of corrosive sublimate sufficing for 10 bushels of seed, or in the case of the "quick-dip" and reinforcing, 6 bushels and a peck. If the potatoes are to be treated in their sacks more solution is needed to cover them, depending on how the sacks fit the treating solution container.

Have A Home Garden This Year

(By John S. Gardener, Kentucky College of Agriculture)

This is the time of year to begin looking to the making of plans for the 1937 home garden. To those persons who have been growing their own vegetables, it is not news that this is a most wholesome practice in any year, but even to these it should be pointed out that with high food prices now prevailing and these bidding fair to continue well into the summer, a home garden this year will be of especial value.

Also, besides alleviating food-bug difficulties, a home garden furnishes vegetables of freshness and quality impossible to find even in the best markets.

To those persons who have ground space, but who have not been making it their practice to have a garden, may we paraphrase the slogan, "Ask any man who has had one." Newcomers into the home gardening fraternity are assured they will find it advantageous and pleasurable, too, to raise their own vegetables.

The secret of producing quality vegetables is to grow them quickly. This calls for moisture a plenty, and for high fertility. The first requirement is met by turning under vegetable matter to decay and thus render the soil spongy.

The best material for this purpose is stable manure, but where it cannot be had in adequate quantity, tree leaves, lawn clippings, composted vegetable tops and even weeds may be used. Good, too, is the use of a coat of soil, preferably including legume, or a cover crop of rye, wheat or barley. In fact, a sod or a cover crop serve the extra purpose of having conserved plant food that would otherwise have been lost through winter soil-washing, and thus becomes, in a way, fertilizer as well as soil conditioner.

In order to make sure that break down will have progressed to the proper degree, the matter should be turned under at least a month before actual gardening is to be begun. In level gardens, even earlier breaking is advised, even though conditions are quite wet, no harm will result provided through freezing follows.

The fertility requirements for vegetables are partly met where manure is used, but always phosphorus should be applied in conjunction, and, for the early plantings of cabbage, radishes and lettuce, and sometimes onions, commercial nitrogen should be used as side-dressings. Where the humus material is anything else than manure, the vegetables' fertility needs must be met with complete commercial fertilizer, such as 3-8-6, 1-8-8 or 5-10-5.

The way to apply phosphorus is to broadcast 20 percent superphosphate at the rate of 100 pounds per quarter acre, just before the land is turned over for the last time. Thus it will be worked into the soil at vegetable root depth. Complete fertilizer is broadcast a few days previous to planting. The rate of application is one pound per 50 square feet of garden space, or to conserve it, may be sown down the rows, in a strip 12 to 15 inches wide at the rate of one pound per 788 running feet of row. The fertilizer should be dropped at with a hoe.

So much for the preparation of the garden spot; gardeners will do well to see to their tools, and to consider seriously the purchase of a good garden trowel and hoe, for this implement can be made to save its purchase price several times each year. Tastes differ, but the writer prefers a single-wheel, low-wheel type, fitted with cultivator teeth in interchangeable with the scuffle hoe or beet knife attachments. In fact, the latter attachment, alone, will do everything that need be done in cultivating any crop in the garden.

Doty Creek News

The general news of Doty Creek is pretty good at the present time. Mr. David D. Caudill a World War Veteran mentioned on the sick list a week or two ago is now better. Mrs. Edith Caudill and Miss Lucy Caudill, who have been visiting at their grandfather John Hampton Sr. over the week end.

Wilburn Hampton residing at the mouth of Doty Creek is purchasing a new mill to install at the mouth of the said creek.

Steve Adams of Knott County was a visitor of Buddie Caudill last week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Caudill formerly living at Carcrosson moved to the head of Doty Creek a few weeks ago.

Uncle Rich Hampton and wife have not received old age pensions. We are hoping they receive it at once as they are badly in need of it.

Mr. Bennie Blair of Blair's Branch is having a new home constructed. Alva Caudill, an employee of Meem Haskins Coal Co., reports that work is good.

Mr. Millard Brown son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Brown of Smithsboro, Ky. was a visitor at the home of Alva Caudill over the week end.

Mr. Fred Hampton a prominent member of Doty Creek is a regular visitor of Henry Back Sr.

Mrs. Margaret Caudill received some nice presents from her son Baxter D. Caudill who is in Utah. Also some from her nephew Private Dock Caudill who is now serving with the U. S. Army near Honolulu.

Henry Back's store will probably be the headquarters for most of the boys and men this week on account of the snow.

Mr. James Caudill and Dave Hampton, who is employed at Perkins Bowling Coal Co. at Anco, Ky. reports that work is slightly improving.

Miss Mattie Hampton who stays on Sandlick visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Hampton over the week end.

Mr. Claude Caudill purchased a hog from Rankin Caudill the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Isom Hampton have finished their new home and moved in it.

Mr. Ellis Caudill has ordered a bicycle.

While Looking Around

(By Troth Campbell)

Well, it looks as if another week has gone by, and there's nothing much I can do about it. Perhaps, I could take off time to think about all the things I didn't do. That I could have done, but—I fall to see where I went wrong, by going that it would just be another week wasted.

Isn't it disgusting? I mean, it's disgusting to get a nice pack of work nearly completed and have something happen to it. You see, we were all so proud of the new bridge the WPA workers were building for us. They had the tiers up and nothing to do but wait for an order for the steel to be sent in for the completion of the bridge.

Now, one of those tiers has set back and it looks like the leaning tower of Pisa. I've got it figured out that it won't fall all the way down but in the long wait for the steel, it has become like a tired sentry and shifted its position to the other foot.

Just as we were beginning to feel the bootleggers were getting tired of their racket themselves, we got a big blow in the face. Maybe, they were just waiting for warmer weather. (They tell me that the "mash" won't work in freezing weather.) Any way, we were disappointed, for the creek was overflowing this week end past.

This writer did not learn the outcome, but a number of timber men for the past few days have been looking over the vast holdings of the Swift Coal and Timber Co. in this section. Once, this company timber is removed from our hill sides, we will have little to look forward to except the relief.

Speaking of business, this writer is happy to report that the "Elk Creek mines, near here has resumed operation."

Jenkins High School (Dessie Hiddle)

Bake Sale A Success

The Senior class of Jenkins High School sponsored a Bake Sale in each of the four towns of the district, Jenkins, McRoberts, Burdine, and Dunham. All those people who bought at these Bake Sales are saying "yum-yum" yet I am sure. Due to the hard work of the members of the class and their cooperation with one another and the parents the Sale was a huge success. The total amount taken in exceeded seventy dollars. ($70.) The Senior class will tell of such incidents as a certain teacher of Jenkins High giving $1.00 for a single piece of candy. The Senior class wishes to express their sincerest appreciation for the splendid way in which the people cooperated with them in their project.

Pikeville Male Quartet Entertains Student Assembly

The students of Jenkins High School enjoyed thoroughly the program presented to them by the Pikeville College Male Quartet. The students showed their appreciation with a very astounding applause. Besides the numbers by the Quartet there was a couple of piano solos, by another student of the college. I'm sure that each and every student wishes to extend their thanks to those college students and their sponsors for the enjoyable program.

Lawyers Meet Another Defeat The Jenkins Cavaliers met another defeat last week when they played Clintwood. The resulting score was Clintwood 15—Jenkins 10. But the student body is assured that their team will be in the shape for the tournament.

Results Of Debates Are Encouraging On Monday, February 22 the affirmative team had a debate with Hazard, which they won. On Thursday, February 25 the negative team tried their luck, when they debated with Pikeville. This debate they won but on Friday much to our sorrow and their too, they were defeated by Pikeville. But, nevertheless our debaters seem to be getting along splendidly with their argumental talent. Those members of the negative team are Pearl Childers and Madge Isom.

Caps, Gowns Have Been Ordered The Seniors have been finding out just how manly chest they have, how tall they are and how big a head they have in order to order their caps and gowns. Those caps and gown orders, invitations and such make graduation seem just a little bit closer and another thrill in the life of a Senior.

Benefit Payments For Adapted Seed A notice from Washington, relayed through the college of Agriculture at Lexington, says that no practice payments will be made in the farm program where red clover and alfalfa seed from foreign countries other than Canada, is used. Seed from foreign countries, with the exception of Canada, is not considered adapted to Kentucky condition, and hence will not call for the practice payments of $2.50 an acre for alfalfa and $2 an acre for clover.

For many years the Kentucky college of Agriculture has been urging farmers to use adapted seed only. It points out that all of the red clover for which practice payments will be made is not well adapted to Kentucky conditions and suggests that farmers select their clover seed even more carefully as regards origin than is required by the rules of the farm program.

Red Clover seed produced within the state, and known to fit local conditions, is considered best. Seed from the southern part of the clover belt, that is, not farther north than middle Ohio, is usually adapted to Kentucky conditions. If that cannot be had, then seed from northern states and Canada is preferred to that from western states. Alfalfa seed produced in the region from Kansas north, with the exception of the Pacific Coast, is recommended for Kentucky.

The law requires that unadapted alfalfa contain seed stained red, purple, red, orange red or green.

Our Thought For This Week

"Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful.
But his delight is in the law of the Lord, and in His law doth he meditate day and night.

What About Letcher County?

We carry on another page of this weeks Mountain Eagle a news item calling attention to the work to be done in the several counties of the seventh district through Federal aid. This is all road work and is to be handled through the State Highway Department. Well we wonder just what is the matter that Letcher County cannot receive its just share of thorough work allotted to this district?

Can it be that the State Highway Department has not been sufficiently convinced that Letcher County roads need repairs? Or can it be that the powers that be in our state government still feel that the contrary people of this county have not done penance enough for their stand against the autocratic handling of affairs of State? Whatever the reason might be it seems strange that we still are here and do nothing about the work that should be coming into our county.

Poor Old Kentucky

(Editor's Note) We are indebted to Ada Ramp Walden of Augusta, Georgia, for the following piece of literature? We publish it only to show how far some newspapers will go in order to fill up space. This piece was originally printed in the Martin (Texas) Democrat some 35 years ago. Following its publication there, it has been republished quite frequently through the south.

POOR OLD KENTUCKY
From Martin (Texas) Democrat.
Born in the mountains of Kentucky is of feud days and full of virus. He fustled, fiddled, cussed and nipped all the days of his miserable life.
He shunned water as a mad dog and dranketh much mean whiskey. When he desired to raise his planted neighbor, and to be rough 20 fold. He riseth ever from the cradle to seek the scalp of his grand-uncle's enemy, and bringeth home in his carcass the amputation of his wife's neighbor's wife's cousin's

Kentucky Quite Syphilitic

(Clipped from the Louisville Times)
The American Social Hygiene Association publishes a list of deaths from syphilis in its various manifestations, including syphilitic heart disease and syphilitic deaths in infancy.

The figures show that Kentucky population above 2,500,000 had 1,362 deaths from syphilis, last year.

Massachusetts population above 4,000,000, had 1,500.

A very bad showing in our pastoral, idyllic State. Don't try to place the blame on Negroes. Although they are charged by venereal diseases, syphilis is prevalent among whites.

Syphilis in Kentucky, in the class which prison keepers best know is declining. It is not, apparently, declining in the class the police least know.

It is decidedly, time to do something about venereal diseases, in a large and organized way, in the United States. The situation is as bad in Kentucky as in New York or Ohio.

Snow Sculptors At Work In City Sun.

The kids are hard at it since the snow fell. We mean of course making snow men. A group gathered together over the week end in front of the Swisher home and molded a real life-like image of George Washington. Included in the group of amateur sculptors were Chas. Passmore, Jack Swisher and Yarette Swisher. Several other children were around to boss the job and give directions for the finishing touches.

He goeth forth on a journey half shot and cometh back on a shutter-shot.

He riseth in the night to let the cat out, and it taketh nine doctors three days to pick the buckshot out of him.

He goeth forth in joy and gladness and cometh back in scraps and fragments.

He empueth a demijohn into himself and a shotgun into his enemy and his enemy's son lieth in wait for him on election day, and let the corner-plougheth up a 30-acre field to bury the remains of that man.

Woe, woe is Kentucky, for he is like a man, with bad whiskey, and her soul is stained with blood of innocent moonshiners.

Republican Candidate For Sheriff Breaks Out In Poetic Rash

Mrs. Virginia Skeens Coleman, Republican candidate for the nomination for Sheriff, drops a letter to the Eagle. Some mention was made last week, concerning Mrs. Coleman in one of the news letters. To be right truthful about the matter, the whole thing was way over the head of the Eagle. Not knowing what it was all about, we published the letter. Mrs. Coleman favors the old Eagle with a very nice letter, which we think is worthy of publication in its entirety.

L. & N. Purchase New Cars For The Kentucky Field

The Louisville and Nashville rail road company announces the purchase on January 29 of 2700 all steel hopper cars and 327 all steel ballast cars at a cost of $6,600,000.

This equipment will be furnished by the Bethlehem Steel company, the Pressed Steel Car Company, the Mt. Vernon Car Manufacturing Company, the Pullman Standard Car Manufacturing Company and the American Car and Foundry Company.

Work on a portion of the huge order will begin shortly and the cars will be placed in service as completed. All of the cars will be of the standard design of the Association of American Railroads.

The 2700 hopper cars, which are of a 50 ton capacity, will be used in hauling coal. The 327 ballast cars will be used chiefly for hauling ballast for the railroad's track, with occasional service in the transportation of ore and coal.

An Interview With Uncle Henry

By W. L. STALLARD

Uncle Henry says that he has been a voter for sixty-one years. I was born and grew up almost in sight of Whitesburg. I can truthfully say that the roads are more dangerous to travel today than at any time I can remember.

Too many citizens are saying, "It's none of my business what the other fellow does, just so he doesn't bother me." They're absolutely wrong. Who's supposed to run this country? I'm inclined to believe it's everybody's business what the other fellow does. I believe also that something should be advocated, and not merely advocated, but put into action, that will cause men who willingly violate the laws, to fear. Fifty and sixty years ago most men feared to shoot on the road near the homes. They feared to bother and use vulgar and indecent language on the road and in the presence of women and children. I live right where I have now lived for thirty years, and I can tell you, I know I didn't hear it so often then. If anything is being done to prevent it, I'm unable to find out. I do know that it continually goes on.

Fifty years ago the citizens of this section really stood and even fought for law and order. They didn't always have it, but they stood for it just the same. I could mention the names of some who were shipped out of here in goods boxes. If they didn't fear why did they practice such secrecy? They did fear. They feared the courts, and perhaps more so, the citizens.

The Governors have unwittingly made life sentences more rather to be chosen than fines. Life sentences are the cheapest thing that we have to offer today. The crimes of Book Taylor, Tall Hail and Evans Hobson were no worse than what has been happening in this state since they were tried and hung. They swung to the end of a rope. But where are those who have been convicted for the past twenty-five years swinging? Many who read this will know about them and now. I'm not talking just to be heard. I'm sorry that such comparisons are true. But they are true, and you who are old enough to remember will say so.

I'm not saying that our present officials aren't doing all they can to maintain peaceful conditions in our country. I believe they are trying. But they do not have the cooperation of all the citizens, therefore they are mightily handicapped. Society, the citizenship of this country, are all guilty and must share the blame for the wave of lawlessness and crime that has been existing in this section so long. Every body knows to hear 'em talk, what should be done. They talk mightily about it, but talk cannot curb it. Talk doesn't do anything. Fifty years ago the so called law abiding citizens had a willingness to act as well as talk. Where are our law abiding citizens today? I claim that citizens who observe law violations without making a complaint or an effort to see that the offenders are brought to a speedy trial aren't law abiding citizens. By such actions they may rightly be termed easily yoked with those who will fully violate the laws.

Citizens of Letcher county, you are the offspring of my playmates and acquaintances of more than 60 years ago. Are you going to turn this country over to those coming after you in worse shape than it was when you received it? Won't you consider for a moment, if no longer, and raise high the torch that your ancestors handed to you? I may be old, but I'm ready to join you.

HOME UNSURPASSED FOR CHILD TRAINING

The home is an unsurpassed medium for teaching many things that children need to know; in child care and training, the main thing is to start early enough. Sometimes parents seem to go on the assumption that only when the child starts to school does he become capable of learning. In actual fact the child's education was started when he was old enough to see, hear, feel and smell things with which he came in contact. This point of view is explained to University of Kentucky students by Miss Mary Mumford, assistant professor of home economics and in charge of the university nursery school.

During the child's very early years, there are many things he can learn to do that develop judgment, poise and muscle control. Boys, as well as girls take a quick interest in kitchen devices such as food grinders and orange squeezers. Putting the parts together and screwing the instrument on the table top will be a challenge to their constructive powers. It will take a little time for the child to understand the whole process but soon the mother can ask him to grind food and get a successful response. At three years of age, children like especially to play in water. With a rubber apron on and standing securely on a stool far removed from the stove, the three-year-old can learn to wash dishes in warm, soapy water.

Children take delight in baking, and they can come to do it well if they are taught patiently. Six and eight-year-olds can cook eggs and make toast, and after they have learned to follow a recipe baking powder biscuits are a possibility.

In brief, farmers can receive pay-ments for diverting soil depleting crops to soil-conserving crops, and for the use of soil building practices.

Burley tobacco growers will be paid 5 cents a pound for the estimated yield on land diverted to other crops, up to 25 percent of their tobacco base. Dark tobacco growers will receive 3 1/2 cents a pound up to 30 percent of the base, and cotton growers 5 cents a pound up to 35 percent of the base. About $9 an acre will be paid for changing general soil depleting crops to soil conserving crops.

Under soil building practices farmers will receive 75 cents for 100 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate used, and $150 a ton for limestone applied.

We take this opportunity of thanking all those who were so kind and considerate of us during the illness and death of our daughter Myrtle Stubb. Also for the beautiful flowers and the wonderful sermons and kind words and to the Turke and Craft Funeral Home for the beautiful work they did.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Spangler and children.

C. M. T. C. Officials Taking Enrollment For Summer Camps

The seventeenth annual enrollment of the Citizens Military Training Camp began Monday (March 1) with vacancies for 400 young men residents of Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, and West Virginia. It was announced today at headquarters of the Fifth Corps Area, U. S. Army, Fort Hayes, Columbus, Ohio.

Prospective applicants are urged by Army officials to secure their application blanks at the earliest possible time to avoid disappointment. Previous experience has taught these young men between the ages of 17 and 21, that delay in completing their inoculation and vaccination may cost them their opportunity of being designated candidates.

Thirty days of outdoor life, with hikes, citizenship studies, shooting, drills, and athletics, is offered free to the student at the C. M. T. Camp each summer. The Government pays the expense of traveling to camp and return and provides wholesome food, uniforms, equipment, laundry service, medical attention, and other necessary accommodations.

Two C. M. T. C. encampments will be conducted this summer within the Fifth Corps Area. Both camps will be located at Fort Ben Harrison, Indiana. The fifth camp, July 2 to July 31, will have advanced course Signal Corps, and Field Artillery trainees in addition to infantry candidates of the Basic, Red, White, and Blue Courses.

The second camp, August 3 to September 1, will have Basic, Red, White, and Blue Course Infantry trainees only. Each camp will have an enrollment of 2005 young men.

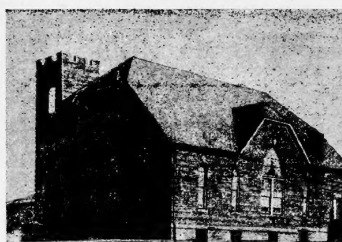

Basic enrollees are those undergoing their first year of C. M. T. C. training. Reds are entering the second year, Whites, the third, and Blues, the final, or fourth year.

No obligation for future military service of any kind is incurred by those attending C. M. T. C. Camps. Application blanks and further information may be obtained at the following places:

C. M. T. C. Officer, Headquarters Fifth Corps Area, Fort Hayes, Columbus, Ohio; Headquarters, Indiana Military Area, 231 ft. Chamber of Commerce Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.; Headquarters, Kentucky Military Area, 204 Post Office Building, Louisville, Ky.; Headquarters, Virginia Military Area, 321-325 Main Temple Bldg., Charleston, W. Va.

Feed Your Soul Sunday By studying God's Word ... 8:45 a. m. Worshipping God ... 10:05 a. m. Training for Service ... 6:00 p. m. Worshipping God ... 7:00 p. m. The message Sunday morning, "Mature Christians" gives us direction how to be full grown believers. Sunday, evening, "The Second Coming of Christ" in its relation to the believer, points the way how Christians can be ready.

Junior, do not fail to be in Sunday School Sunday morning. We have an idea that our pastor will be with you for another story. Do not fail to come.

We know you enjoyed Mrs. Griffith's visit last Sunday with us. We expect to have her again from time to time. Those few minutes stimulate our lives, we just want to do more for the Master.

Some Life Is Being Patterned After Yours

Would you allow a seven inch snow to send you or your son's soul out into eternity unprepared. Our pastor has challenged us, saying that man, the barrier, stands in veneration between the sons of men and Christ. They are their children.

Expect 150 At Breaks Reserve Meet Saturday

Between 100 and 150 civic and business leaders of Eastern Kentucky and northern Virginia are expected to gather at Pikeville 2:30 o'clock next Saturday afternoon for the purpose of forming an organization to push arrangements for a bi-state forest reserve in the Breaks area. It was announced yesterday following receipt of a large number of letters from those expecting to attend.

The meeting will be held in the dining room of the Hatcher Hotel and all those interested in forest preservation are urged to attend.

See Many Visitors

Among the communities which will be represented, it was stated yesterday, will be Hazard, Paintsville, Prestonsburg, Whitesburg, Fleming, Neen, Jenkins, Williamson, W. Va., Dante, Va. and Norton, Va. Visitors from many other sections are also expected.

As the organization is formed, G. McConnell, state director of forestry and his assistant, H. B. Newland, both of Frankfort and Major James Brown, state director of fish and game in Kentucky, will be among the principal speakers. Other speakers will include Lee Long, superintendent of the Clinchfield Coal Corporation of Dante, Va.; Fred Adkins, Norton, Va., publisher; Tom Hayden, of Fleming and Harry LaViers of Paintsville. The national leaders on forestry and soil erosion will also be here.

Household Questions

Items of Interest to the Housewife

Two or three slices of bacon placed on top of a liver loaf during baking adds to the flavor.

Don't use any kind of artificial heat for drying stockings. Hang by the toes in an airy place to dry and don't fold away damp.

The stock left from cooked spinach makes a valuable addition to vegetable soup.

A pinch of alum added to the water when washing blue or green articles of clothing will prevent the colors from running.

A tablespoonful of vinegar will soften glue that has become hardened in a bottle.

Wash sweaters on a windy day, then put in a pillow case or twine bag and hang out to dry. Shake often until dry. All knit or crocheted articles should be dried in this way if you want them to keep their shape.

Ice box cookie dough can be packed in pound butter cartons, loaf pans or small bowls, or it can be shaped into rolls 2 inches in diameter and wrapped in waxed paper. The dough should be chilled 24 hours or longer and then cut into thin slices using a sharp knife dipped frequently in cold water.

Press woollens the right side up with a woolen pressing cloth. Apply moisture to muslin cloth on top of wool and press with hot iron.

Oatmeal on a dampened cloth is excellent for cleaning white paint.

Never fasten suspenders below the reinforced hems of stockings. Wash stockings with lukewarm water and squeeze out gently—they'll ladder if they are wrung.

Pungency and wateriness are two accusations often leveled against the turnip. The latter may be overcome by careful draining, the former by the use of a little butter. This is a great softener of the turnip's flavor. The vegetable should not be peeled thinly. There is a notional ring to be seen in its flesh some little way in from the outside.
